

"Effective bilingualism can be a powerful asset. Not only does it foster strong communication at home, allowing the transmission of family and values, it also adds considerable academic and professional strength in life. In this excellent book, Chumak-Horbatsch offers language practices based on experience that will enrich the development of all children." —ALMA FLOR ADA, PROFESSOR EMERITA, UNIVERSITY OF SAN FRANCISCO

"... a compelling portrait of the young immigrant child as a budding bilingual who brings immense language strengths to the school setting, but who also faces challenges in maintaining a dual linguistic identity there." —PAULA MARKUS, PROGRAM CO-ORDINATOR, ESL/ELD, TORONTO DISTRICT SCHOOL BOARD

"This imaginative and immensely useful book offers a wealth of practical strategies to support effective bilingual learning in the classroom.... A must read for elementary teachers and for early childhood educators!" —KELLEEN TOOHEY, SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY

"This book provides teachers with provocations to reflect on the experiences of young immigrant children. Each carefully composed chapter takes the reader from reflection to application, offering a celebration of languages, and of the child's sense of self, along the way." —KIM WATTS, EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATOR

"I have found the LAP program to be invaluable in promoting home languages in my kindergarten classroom. The book should be a welcome resource for primary teachers and teachers in training, offering a creative source of activities and new ideas that are easy to apply at school and home and that enhance all subject areas." —DOLLY FOX, KINDERGARTEN TEACHER

This path-breaking book provides a convincing argument for the importance of children's home languages and the benefits of dual- and multi-language learning. A new classroom practice known as Linguistically Appropriate Practice (LAP) offers guidance for those working with young children who arrive in childcare centres and schools with little or no proficiency in the classroom language. Linguistically Appropriate Practice details over fifty classroom activities that can be adapted to match both the developmental level of the children and the classroom curriculum.

Intended for childcare staff, health care providers, settlement workers, speech and language pathologists, kindergarten and primary grade teachers, family resource workers, and literacy specialists, this book is an essential resource for preparing young children for the complex communication and literacy demands of the twenty-first century.

ROMA
CHUMAK-HORBATSCH

is Associate Professor in the School of Early Childhood Studies at Ryerson University in Toronto, Canada. For more information on her work on young children's bilingual learning and the importance of home languages, see www.ryerson.ca/mylanguage.

ISBN 978-1-4426-0380-6

9 781442 603806

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS

utppublishing.com

Chumak-Horbatsch
LINGUISTICALLY APPROPRIATE PRACTICE

LINGUISTICALLY APPROPRIATE PRACTICE

A Guide for Working with Young Immigrant
Children

Roma Chumak-Horbatsch
Foreword by Jim Cummins

